

97

2014 Stonestreet
Chardonnay Red Point

The 2014 Chardonnay Red Point comes from volcanic soils at an elevation of 800 to 1,000 feet. These white tufa soils have produced an incredibly dense, rich Chardonnay with a subtle influence of oak, a full-bodied mouthfeel, and a fabulous nose of poached pears, honeysuckle, wet stones, white currants and quince. This is a glorious Chardonnay for drinking over the next 5-8 years.

- Robert M. Parker, Jr. (October, 2016)

Copyright 2016, The Wine Advocate, Inc. -
Reprinted with permission

92

2013 Stonestreet Cabernet
Sauvignon Monolith

Another big, structured, classic 2013 is the 2013 Cabernet Sauvignon Monolith. Coming from a vineyard at 1,750 feet in elevation, this is 99% Cabernet Sauvignon and 1% Merlot., aged 20 months in 55% new French oak. This vineyard is one of the oldest blocks on the mountain, and the wine has great intensity, some chocolate, crushed rock and crème de cassis as well as plenty of earth and unsmoked tobacco notes. It is dense, full-bodied and moderately tannic. Drink it between 2020 and 2045.

- Robert M. Parker, Jr. (October, 2016)

Copyright 2016, The Wine Advocate, Inc. -
Reprinted with permission

93

2014 Stonestreet
Chardonnay Bear Point

The 2014 Chardonnay Bear Point comes from a 1,000-foot elevation vineyard and its clonal origin is the Hyde-Wente selection. Loads of crisp pineapple notes intermixed with mango and tangerine oil jump from the glass of this full-bodied Chardonnay, which has terrific acidity and freshness. It should drink well for up to a decade.

- Robert M. Parker, Jr. (October, 2016)

Copyright 2016, The Wine Advocate, Inc. -
Reprinted with permission

96

2014 Stonestreet
Chardonnay Upper Barn

From a site made famous by Helen Turley when she was buying its fruit, the 2014 Chardonnay Upper Barn is at an 1,800-foot elevation and spent 11 months in 52% new French oak. A killer Chardonnay (as it always has been), the wine offers up notes of wet gravel, citrus oil, apple blossom, orange marmalade, honeysuckle, and a hint of almond paste. Fabulous fruit on the attack, mid-palate and finish characterizes this dry, gorgeous, compelling Chardonnay that should age effortlessly for a decade or more.

- Robert M. Parker, Jr. (October, 2016)

Copyright 2016, The Wine Advocate, Inc. -
Reprinted with permission

92

2014 Stonestreet
Chardonnay Estate
Vineyards

The 2014 Stonestreet Estate Chardonnay is superb, with plenty of white peach and poached pear notes, beautiful purity, a lusty, medium to full-bodied mouthfeel, subtle French oak, and terrific fruit and honeysuckle. Drink it over the next 5-7 years.

- Robert M. Parker, Jr. (October, 2016)

Copyright 2016, The Wine Advocate, Inc. -
Reprinted with permission

93

2013 Stonestreet Cabernet
Sauvignon Cougar Ridge

As for the 2013 Cabernet Sauvignon Cougar Ridge, this is 100% Cabernet Sauvignon aged 20 months in 32% new French oak (which is the lowest amount of new oak for any of these cuvées). This is a broad, deep wine with savory blackberry and blackcurrant fruit, an opaque color like its siblings, terrific purity, and hints of lavender and underbrush. A complex, earthy style of Cabernet with moderate tannin in the finish, this is another 30- to 35-year wine that needs 4-5 years of bottle age.

- Robert M. Parker, Jr. (October, 2016)

Copyright 2016, The Wine Advocate, Inc. -
Reprinted with permission

95+

2013 Stonestreet Cabernet
Sauvignon Christopher's
Vineyard

A 50-year wine named after Jess Jackson's son Christopher, the 2013 Cabernet Sauvignon Christopher's Vineyard comes from a more north-facing site on red volcanic soils with high concentrations of slate and iron, planted in 1986. The resulting wine displays loads of blueberry and blackberry fruit, wet, gravelly rocks, some graphite, a full-bodied, mouthfeel, huge, massive fruit and extract, and a long, juicy but substantial finish of close to a minute, with plenty of tannin. Forget this wine for 5-7 years and drink it over the following 50+ years.

- Robert M. Parker, Jr. (October, 2016)

Copyright 2016, The Wine Advocate, Inc. -
Reprinted with permission

95+

2013 Stonestreet Cabernet
Sauvignon Rockfall

The 2013 Cabernet Sauvignon Rockfall Vineyard comes from a high-elevation site of 2,000 to 2,200 feet. It is 100% Cabernet Sauvignon aged 21 months in 66% new French oak. This vineyard is a south-facing micro-terroir with lots of rocks, and the wine smells of mountain garrigue intermixed with black cherry, blackberry and cassis. The wine is dense, full-bodied, rich and rugged, but not rustic. It is a full-bodied, massive, rather backward and primordial wine for those with the patience to cellar it. Forget it for 5-8 years, and drink it over the following 40+ years.

- Robert M. Parker, Jr. (October, 2016)

Copyright 2016, The Wine Advocate, Inc. -
Reprinted with permission

98

2014 Stonestreet
Chardonnay Gravel Bench

What looks to be the greatest wine of the entire batch is the 2014 Gravel Bench. This is like a liqueur of rocks. It spent 11 months in 100% new French oak. The wine is incredibly rich, with great length, fabulous acidity, and an unbelievable minerality. It reminds one of a Corton-Charlemagne from Coche-Dury in a top vintage. Sadly, only 301 cases were made, but this is set for a long life of 10+ years.

- Robert M. Parker, Jr. (October, 2016)

Copyright 2016, The Wine Advocate, Inc. -
Reprinted with permission

94

2014 Stonestreet
Chardonnay Broken Road

The 2014 Chardonnay Broken Road (1800-foot elevation) is made from Dijon clones and displays oodles of tropical fruit such as orange, pineapple and apricot marmalade in a deep, rich, crisp, lusty and dramatic style. It is one of the more flamboyant of these Chardonnays out of the gate, and should drink well for up to a decade as well.

- Robert M. Parker, Jr. (October, 2016)

Copyright 2016, The Wine Advocate, Inc. -
Reprinted with permission

95

2014 Stonestreet
Chardonnay Cougar
Ridge

Another beauty is the 2014 Chardonnay Cougar Ridge, which displays lots of honeysuckle, plenty of minerality, some hints of citrus oil, apple blossom, and white peach. It is another full-bodied, beautiful Chardonnay with a subtle dosage of wood. Drink it over the next 6-7 years.

- Robert M. Parker, Jr. (October, 2016)

Copyright 2016, The Wine Advocate, Inc. -
Reprinted with permission

91

2015 Stonestreet
Sauvignon Blanc Aurora

The 2015 Sauvignon Blanc Aurora Point Vineyard was fermented in used oak with some indigenous yeast fermentation. It is a crisp, elegant, nicely textured Sauvignon Blanc moving toward the viscosity and texture of a good Chardonnay, with ripe, honeyed grapefruit and citrus blossom. Delicious, medium-bodied but intense, this is a beauty to drink over the next few years.

- Robert M. Parker, Jr. (October, 2016)

Copyright 2016, The Wine Advocate, Inc. -
Reprinted with permission

90

2013 Stonestreet Cabernet
Sauvignon

The 2013 Cabernet Sauvignon Estate from Monument Ridge is 98% Cabernet Sauvignon aged 18 months in 37% new French oak. It is an outstanding wine, with the oak pushed to the background. Notes of crushed rocks, spring flowers, blackcurrants, plums, and Asian spice are followed by a rich, full-bodied, pure and impressive Cabernet. It should drink well for at least 15 or 20 years.

- Robert M. Parker, Jr. (October, 2016)

Copyright 2016, The Wine Advocate, Inc. -
Reprinted with permission

92

2013 Stonestreet Cabernet
Sauvignon Bear Point

One hundred percent Cabernet Sauvignon, the 2013 Cabernet Sauvignon Bear Point saw 50% new French oak for 21 months prior to being bottled. This wine has a dense bluish purple color and notes of blackberries, blueberries, incense, asphalt and white flowers. It is full-bodied, moderately tannic, and should benefit from 3-4 years of bottle age. It should keep 25-30 or more years.

- Robert M. Parker, Jr. (October, 2016)

Copyright 2016, The Wine Advocate, Inc. -
Reprinted with permission